

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ZETTAGRID ACQUIRES CLOUD PROVIDER CONEXIM

SYDNEY, 13 April 2016 – Zettagrid today announced the company has acquired Conexim, an Australian provider of cloud infrastructure services based in Sydney.

The acquisition is part of Zettagrid's ongoing plans for growth and provides greater scale, product breadth and reach within its core market of Australia.

"Conexim is a good fit for Zettagrid and customers of both Zettagrid and Conexim will benefit from this," said Nathan Harman, Managing Director of Zetta Group.

He continued: "We plan on expanding Zettagrid's product catalog by adding a number of unique Conexim products over the coming months. We'll also consolidate a number of services on our combined VMware platforms.

"Zettagrid continues to grow and innovate. We have made a series of strategic investments in the past few years including expanding our data centre and point of presence (PoP) locations, and architecting our cloud for extreme modularity, allowing for rapid deployment and massive scalability."

 ENDS ***

FOR MORE INFORMATION

If you would like more information, please contact:

Jeremy Balius 0404367766

OM ThreeSixty jeremyb@omthreesixty.com.au

ABOUT ZETTAGRID

www.zettagrid.com

Zettagrid is an award-winning Australian cloud provider of IT Infrastructure as a Service (IaaS) for businesses. Zettagrid offers enterprise grade, on-demand data centre infrastructure with direct network connectivity. All services are fully automated and delivered without contracts to help lower customers' capital expenditures ensuring the reliability and flexibility businesses need. A subsidiary of the Zetta Group, Zettagrid operates in more data centers than any other cloud provider in Australia, with zones currently in Sydney, Melbourne and Perth. As a result, Zettagrid provides true operational diversity to any organisation nationally.